WE ARE NOW A REGISTERED CHARITY

Aug 2012

Although we have continued to grow the family tree throughout 2011 and into this year, the main part of the website, sadly, had to be temporarily neglected. The reason is that our application for charitable status absorbed much of our available time and energy and since it was granted we have focussed on three developments, all of which are now virtually completed, allowing 'normal service to be resumed'.

Firstly, we have set up the necessary internal systems to ensure that we are compliant with the requirements of the Charity Commission and Company Law. Hence, we are now able to meet our obligations and make, on time, all the returns required of us.

Secondly we have reprinted the Trust leaflet to reflect the changes. It is now in its 4th edition.

Thirdly, the Interactive Family Tree – which, incidentally, attracts a lot of very favourable comment – remains structurally unaltered, but the main website has been totally rebuilt and much improved. Not least we hope you will welcome 'Cobbwebs' our new venue for News & Views

This is not 'normal service resumed'. This is a 'new & improved' service provided for your enjoyment and looking for your support.
